Content Submission Tips

Copy Protection/Data Encryption
Projects requiring copy protection have particular restrictions on the source materials to be supplied. CSS, Macrovision, and Rip-Guard copy protection methods require either a DLT Tape, or a specially burned DVD-R disc. AACIS for High Def formats requires DLT Tape or Firewire HDD. For the specific requirements of each method please contact your sales representative.

Test Your Master!
To insure compatibility please test your master on as many of the following devices as are available and applicable prior to submission.
<input type="checkbox"/> Home DVD/CD Console	<input type="checkbox"/> Portable DVD/CD Player
<input type="checkbox"/> Desktop/Laptop PC	<input type="checkbox"/> Desktop/Laptop Macintosh
<input type="checkbox"/> SD Video Game Console	(PS2/XBOX)
<input type="checkbox"/> HD Video Game Console	(PS3/ XBOX 360)

Review your master CAREFULLY!
The replication process produces identical clones of your information. The content of the finished copies are no better and no worse than the master you supply to us. So, please review it as closely as possible prior to submission.
